A heartwarming, bittersweet novel about the modern man and the difficulties of relationships

Joe Clarke, father of two, is about 78 per cent sure he's just had an affair. After all that is the hopelessly attractive office intern in bed next to him, isn't it? But then again, if he did have an affair, why can't he remember anything at all about the night in question? Mortified by his mistake, Joe vows to be a better man. But when his adored wife Penny puts two and two together and leaves him, things start to take a turn for the decidedly strange. Joe is told for a fact that he didn't have an affair after all. He just thinks he did. Which is great news—or at least it would be if the person who'd just delivered it wasn't the overly perfumed, mean-spirited ghost of his least favorite ex-girlfriend. This is a hilarious and bittersweet novel about love, parenthood, and fidelity, and how easy it is to get lost on the way to your own happy ending.
