Make Your Own Story: Once Upon a Princess Claire Page

Once upon a princess and Once upon a pirate are innovative new sticker books that make it possible for children to make up hundreds of different stories about princesses or pirates. The story is told using rebus techniques, and the reader completes the story with the stickers, deciding what their princess will wear, and where she will go next or what the pirate will do and what he discovers. As the stickers are re-usable, the book can be used again and again, to tell hundreds of different stories. There are four sheets of re-usable vinyl stickers bound into the book, containing more than one hundred stickers. Once the stickers have been pushed out, they can be stored in pockets at the back of the book. With beautiful photography throughout, young children will be delighted and drawn into a magical world that encourages story-telling and stimulates their imagination.
